Dear Dr. Humor,

On behalf of 3M Corporate Marketing Services, I would like to formally extend my thanks for attending and speaking at our semiannual meeting in July.

Aside from making us laugh until we cried, you helped us realize the importance of laughter in the work place and pointed out the humor in many of the daily things we take for granted. Your perspective of life and business is both refreshing and revitalizing.

Five months have passed since our summer meeting and many of the details of the day have long been forgotten but one thing is certain, we remember you and the message you brought to us. People often refer to you in conversation and your name is nearly always followed by a rumble of laughter. This is truly a compliment.

Thank you again for sharing our day with us and for making us laugh.

Sincerely,
